NUMBER 19. MAY 8, 1908, NORWAY, MAINE. VOLUME XXXIX

A May Day Frolic.

In one of the primary schools the scholars decided to hang their teacher a may basket right after school, but for some reason they were a little late in getting their treat to fill the basket. A good sized crowd of the youngsters were coming from the store, one of them bearing in triumph the box of well selected goodies when they saw the teacher walking away from the schoolhouse. Confusion reigned among the small people. They buzzed around like crazy bees undecided whether to seize the box and bear it to the teacher from the curly headed little fellow who held it firmly or to shoo the teacher back. Finally one brave spirit darted forward and shouted: "Go back to the schoolhouse! Go back to the schoolhouse, I say!"

The teacher saw the difficulty and after a while went back to the schoolhouse. Comparative quiet was restored. They filled the basket, rushed to the schoolhouse and delivered it in approved fashion. It was evident they had been caught, invited in and treated, for very soon the little people came down the street with happy faces and each eating a generous piece of candy.

Chipman D. Haines.

The death of Chipman D. Haines occurred last week Thursday at his boarding place, Mrs. Ethridge's on Danforth street. Mr. Haines came to Norway four years ago from Lynn, Mass., and has been employed at the shoe shop of the B. F. Spinney & Co., being a shoe cutter and pattern maker. He was 32 years old and was born in Nova Scotia.

Mr. Haines was a member of the Knights of Pythias at Lynn, the English Order of Odd Fellows and another lodge at Lynn. He leaves a mother and two brothers, who live in Lynn. He was sick but a short time.

The engagement of Mr. Haines and Mrs. Ethridge had been announced to their friends and they were to have been married in the near future.

The funeral, Sunday, was attended by Rev. B. S. Rideout and was in charge of the Knights of Pythias. Interment at Norway Pine Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Eunice A. French.

Mrs. Eunice A. French died, Saturday evening, at the home of her son, Delmore M. French. Death came suddenly from heart failure, she being ill but a few minutes.

Mrs. French was born and lived the most of her life at New Sharon. For the past five or six years she has lived with her son at Norway. She was the widow of Albert French, who died Nov. 18, 1903.

Mrs. French was a member of the Methodist church. She leaves one son, D. M. French. A daughter, Annie, died in 1880. One sister, Mrs. Fannie Cramp, lives at Chesterville.

Services were held at the house, Monday afternoon, attended by Rev. C. A. Brooks. The remains were taken to New Sharon and funeral services held Wednesday afternoon. Burial at New Sharon in the family lot.

Under the North Star.

The splendid scenic equipment of this great production is the most elaborate and original. Beginning with the grand Naval Ball, on board the British war ship, thence to the huts of the castaways, in the Arctic Regions, then passing to Craton Park, England, then to the Far North, the Land of Snow, and the Polar Ocean, last of all, to the beautiful Harbor of St. John's New Foundland, one of the loveliest scenes in the world; it runs almost the entire gamut of scenic possibilities, and presents to the artist a giant task, worthy a great master's best work. The massive ice sets, in the Arctic winter scenes, are the most wonderful and beautiful ever placed upon the stage. At Norway Opera House, Tuesday, May 12, by a company of fifteen people. Popular prices.

In three there were twelve pigs, in two there were ten, in one fifteen, in one nine and in one four. Thus in seven litters there were 80 pigs. Mr. Buck keeps the sows for breeders that are prolific and there are usually ten or more pigs in a litter. This year every litter came in the night. Last year from the same sows Mr. Buck had 161 pigs. Each sow had two litters during the year. Having so many pigs and the farm being situated some distance from the more thickly settled portions of the town sometimes he does not sell all these pigs as he would like to when they are four weeks old, but he has always found a sale for them. They sell more readily during the months of May and June.

A New Back for an Old One—How it is Done in Maine.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribael feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one.

Mrs. E. G. Carver, 98 Oak St., Lewiston, Me., says:—"For about two weeks last January I had such an acute attack of pain in the back that when stooping or lifting I was in misery. Reading about Doane's Kidney Pills I got a box at a drug store. They helped me from the first and I continued taking them until the pain and lameness disappeared. I am now free from these troubles, and give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

The Flat and the City.

The two villages in the southern section of the town, respectively known as "the Flat" and "the City" are practically one community, having similar local necessities of every day life.

One who is acquainted with the industrial conditions of these villages as contrasted with the past of only one generation ago, must be seriously impressed with the changes that have occurred, and to what an extent the great reaper Death has removed many of our most valued citizens and representatives of indispensable trades and business pursuits. Only a few years ago there were skilled workers in both places in tanning and leather-making, also excellent carpenters, carriage builders and ironers, shoe makers and cobblers, and workmen of nearly every kind, so that this little corner of Oxford county might have lived and flourished all by itself independently of the rest of the Republic for an indefinite time.

While the mechanical industries have lost some notable representatives, there has been but little change in the number of stores for sale of domestic and foreign goods to the people, and though these establishments do not attempt to compete with the marts of trade in the large nearby villages, they yet receive an encouraging share of local patronage.

But the present outlook shows sorry gaps in some specialties of useful arts necessary for a complete equipment for supplying the wants of a busy and thriving agricultural town like ours. It is too evident for denial that we need a good wheelwright and carriage maker, another good carpenter, a shop for harness and shoe repairing; and the natural opportunities for successful manufacturing of wood products are numerous and tempting. The stream connecting our two beautiful lakes, within a distance of half a mile has, at least, seven fine water powers that are or have been in the past utilized for business purposes, and several of them are unoccupied, only waiting to be again put in active operation for the production of useful, money-making articles of commercial necessity.

It would be very unjust to existing conditions to ignore the few excellent tradesmen we have. For instance, there is one extensive mill for sawing long lumber, shingles, staves, etc., one box factory, one planing and circular saw mill, one carpenter and expert in several building trades, one carriage and house painter and decorator, one blacksmith and horse shoer and that is all. At the Flat there is the average scarcity of workers in the necessary trades. As long as you live you can resort to any plan or makeshift you please. If you die; you need not fear for facilities to give you a very handsome burial, for we have an undertaker, one of the finest for all possible emergencies. That is a hasty but accurate sketch of our situation with respect to mechanical and mercantile industries.

One important industry which is really a factory must be mentioned—the Waterford creamery. This establishment has become noted in the State and considerably in the country at-large for its superb quality of butter, which has taken many first prizes and medals of honor. The effect of this industry upon the agricultural interests of this and neighboring towns has been very beneficial, and there is no doubt that in the near future there will be a necessity for an enlargement of the operations of this creamery.

The town is well noted for the existence of well established and flourishing bodies representing four of the most popular and beneficent fraternal orders in America, viz: Free Masonry, Odd Fellowship, Knights of Pythias and Patrons of Husbandry. The gentle, refining influence of these associations upon a community are very apparent in the superior morality and intelligence of our whole people, and constitute the best reasons for attracting skilled workmen to these villages, who are good fraternity men and who desire to locate themselves and their families in a section noted for its educational and social advantages.

HIRAM.

An Aged Man.

Warren Adams, a venerable and respected resident of Hiram, passed away on the evening of Saturday, April 25th, being nearly 86 years of age. He was born on Fort Hill in Gorham, near where the old stockaded garrison stood, but was brought to Hiram by his father when a child; so his whole active life was passed in that town.

He was a farmer and stock man, and exhibited remarkable energy and industry in the development of his plans.

His death was the result of heart disease and a complication of infirmities incident to old age, supplemented by a violent cold and grip.

He was tenderly cared for in his old age by his two dutiful and respected sons, Orrison and Stephen Adams, who now succeed to the attractive and valuable homestead. He is also survived by an aged and feeble widow, and one daughter.

Almon Richardson.

Died in Hereford, Que., Apr. 11, Almon Richardson, aged 86 years and 13 days. Mr. Richardson was born in Gilead in 1823. He married Mercy Austin of Shelburne, four children blessing their union, Sylvia Richardson and Mrs. Austin Hunt of Hereford, Que., Levator E. of East Colebrook and Charlie, who died when a young man.

Mr. Richardson is survived by one sister, who lives in Naples, an uncle, Ephriam Wight of Gilead, and four cousins, C. E. and A. E. Philbrook of Shelburne; W. H. Philbrook of Dummer and John Philbrook of Bethel.

Everybody Talking About It.

Everybody is talking about the great free offer of Dr. Greene's, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and who discovered that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and all who accept his offer are astonished at the marvelous success of this method. His office is at 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., where he receives and carefully examines every letter sent to him by persons describing their cases and telling him their symptoms. After thoroughly studying each case he answers the letter, explaining the cause of each symptom and telling a sure way to get well and strong. He makes the patients understand exactly what ails them and tells them all about their complaint, and all this is entirely free of charge. They save the expense of a trip to the city, have no fee to pay, and have the benefit of the best medical advice and consultation. Here is an opportunity for you to to get well, reader; you can either accept or reject it. Which will you do?

WHAT IS RHEUMATISM?

Well Known Remedy That Absolutely Cures This Dread Disease.

No other disease is so painful as rheumatism. Uric Acid crystals are deposited in and about the joints, and that is called rheumatism. The only way in which this painful and dangerous disease can be absolutely cured is with Neuralgic Anodyne, a remedy that has an entirely different action from anything else.

Small doses are taken internally that reach the nerve centers and prevent the formation of Uric Acid. It is also rubbed on the affected parts, quieting and relieving the pain, reducing the rheumatic fever, and restoring health to the aching tissues and muscles.

A large sized bottle of Neuralgic Anodyne costs but 25c, and it is so successful in curing rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, toothache and relieving bruises and sprains that the proprietors, The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me., authorize dealers everywhere to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

EAST OTISFIELD.

A Birthday Surprise Party.

On Friday evening a party of members of Golden Rule Sunshine Society with friends gave Mrs. Etta Chute a birthday surprise party.

The party numbered over 20. They met as the home of the president, Mrs. E. R. Stone, and walked to G. J. Everett's. As the party followed the president to the door they were met with the usual smile and pleasant voice of their hostess, Mrs. Chute. It was indeed a perfect surprise to her.

As we entered the home, we found our host, Mr. Everett very composedly sitting at his desk. Mr. Everett is an extensive fur dealer and a busy man, but soon the quietude of that home was broken, accounts were left, and a jolly reception followed. In most homes at this time of year, more or less of an unsettled state of things would be found, but here it is always spic span, not a trace of housecleaning confusion to be seen.

After the surprise, music was in order and fine music it was. Mr. Everett drew the bow over the violin and Chas. Scribner presided at the organ. A variety of instrumental music was enjoyed, lively jigs and old-time songs, our grandmothers used to sing with variations. As we listened to the music we felt to exclaim with the poet:

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage,
To split a rock, or burst a cabbage."

The society chorus sang several songs which were highly applauded. Mrs. Edna Fields played some fine records on her phonograph, one, the reading of the 23d Psalm and the Lord's Prayer, was beautiful.

Light refreshments were served. Mrs. Chute was presented with two beautiful birthday cakes tastily frosted with name, year of birth and 1908, exquisitely decorated with fancy confectionery. Several souvenirs, birthday cards and bouquets of flowers were left as slight tokens of the bond of love which exists among members of the Golden Rule. As the hour came for us to leave our charming host and hostess, we bade them good cheer and wished them many happy returns of the day.

FROM PRESIDENT HARRISON

President Benjamin Harrison, accepting Mr. Sewall's resignation of his office as Consul-General of Samoa, June 23, 1892: "I beg to express to you my very highest appreciation of the excellent service you have rendered, both in the interest of your own government and of the natives of Samoa, whose interests this government has most sincerely desired to promote."

FROM ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

Wherever the English tongue is read to-day the name of Robert Louis Stevenson is honored. Mr. Stevenson lived on Samoa during the troublous times in the island's history and wrote a history of the events. He has this to say of Mr. Sewall, a spontaneous tribute of appreciation:—

"The American Consul-General was Harold M. Sewall, a young man of high spirit and generous disposition. He had obeyed orders of his government with a grudge and looked back on his past action with regret, almost to be called repentance. From the moment of the declaration of war against Laupepa we find him standing forth in bold, consistent and sometimes captious opposition, stirring up his government at home with clear and forcible dispatches and on the spot grasping at every opportunity to thrust a stick into the German wheels."

WHAT HE HAS DONE FOR MAINE

These activities on the larger stage of national affairs show the calibre and attainments of the man who is before the people of the Second Maine District as the logical candidate for the Congress of the United States. These striking facts need to be supplemented by a brief record of what he has done in the affairs of our own State, for it is in his relations with his own people that we are just now especially interested in viewing him, because the duties of a representative in Congress bring him into peculiarly close relations with the people of his district.

When he had led the fight successfully against the State printing graft, had been largely instrumental in abolishing the fee system, courageously marshalled the legislative forces that went up against the strongest political influences in the State in his triumphant fight to save the lakes of Maine, had taken the initiative in abolishing the railroad passes to State officials that had for so long been a handy weapon for the bosses and a discredit to the business reputation of our State, when as chairman of the Senate committee on taxation he had been the principal instrument by which the taxes on railroads, telegraphs and expresses had been raised and had assisted to levy such additional tax on corporations that the State is now enjoying $150,000 additional income—when he had done all these things, refusing to be swayed against the true interests of the people to curry favor with the gentlemen who are trying to handle politics in Maine for their own selfish aims and ends and profit, then one of those eminent reactionaries who have bossed in Maine for a long time declared in disgust that "Harold Sewall was an almighty impractical politician."

That was really the highest compliment that has been paid to a man in public life in Maine for a long time.

When Mr. Sewall declared his candidacy for Congress an eminent gentleman in Rockland made the same remark—acknowledging that he had no criticism to make of Mr. Sewall's abilities and fitness for the position.

But the sneers of those crafty gentlemen who have sat back and pulled the wires and kept the people dancing for so many years can no longer influence voters in these clear-eyed and wide-open days of honesty and straightforwardness.

New Theory is Rapidly Spreading Over Country

L. T. Cooper's theory concerning the human stomach, which he claims to prove, with his new medicine, is being given more respect and comment every day.

Cooper claims that 90 per cent. of all ill health is due to stomach trouble. When interviewed about his theory recently, he said: "Stomach trouble is the great curse of the 20th century so far as the civilized races are concerned. Practically all of the chronic ill health of this generation is caused by abnormal stomachic conditions. In earlier days when the human race was closer to nature, and men and women worked all day out of doors, digging their frugal existnce from the soil, the tired, droopy, half-sick people that are now so common did not exist.

"To be sure, there was sickness in those days, but it was of a virulent character, and only temporary. There was none of this half-sick coudition all the time with which so many are afflicted nowadays.

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble, The human stomach in civilized people today is degenerate. It lacks tone and strength. This weakness has gradually come through a sedentary existence. I further knew that few people can be sick with the digestive apparatus in perfect shape. The sole reason for my success is because my New Discovery medicine tones the stomach up to required strength in about six weeks' time. That is why I have had more people come and thank me wherever I have gone to introduce my medicine, than I have had time to talk with."

Among the immense numbers of people who are now strong believers in Cooper's theory and medicine is Mrs. M. E. Delano, a prominent resident of the suburb of Brookline, Boston, Mass. She says: "For several years I was broken in health caused, primarily by stomach and nerve troubles. I gradually became worse, until recently I was compelled to go without solid food for days at a time. I had sour stomach, palpitation of the nerves of stomach and heart, dyspepsia, and extreme nervousness. I suffered terribly with insomnia, and my liver, bowels and whole system gradually became deranged. I felt instant relief the first day I began this Cooper medicine. I now feel like a new being. Today I walked all over town, shopping—something I have not done for years.

"I make this statement wholly from a sense of duty. I feel I owe it to anyone who might find relief and renewed happiness as I have done."

The record made by the Cooper medicines is astonishing. We will take pleasure in discussing it with anyone who wishes to know about them. —F. P. Stone, druggist, Norway, Me.

Amos Packard.

Amos Packard of Baltimore, Md., died Wednesday, April 29th, and had he lived would have been eighty years of age on May 9th next. Peacefully he passed away from old age.

His wife, who was Lydia S. Herrick, a sister of Judge Herrick of Bethel, died in 1900. Survivors of Mr. Packard are three children, namely, Benjamin F. Packard of Seattle, Washington State; Morrill N. Packard, associate Judge of Juvenile Court, and Professor Roscoe M. Packard of Baltimore, Maryland.

Mr. Packard lived in Norway and vicinity until 1879, then in Lynn, Mass., until 1881 and since in Baltimore.

Maybaskets were all in readiness for May 1st.

C. E. Russell's ice cart begun its daily rounds, May 1st.

A. F. Bartlett of Lynn, Mass., has been in Norway this week.

Charles R. Smith of Portland has visited his sister, Edith Smith.

Hubert Bishop of Island Pond, Vt., spent the Sabbath with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. George I. Cummings and Master Charles Francis went to Bemis, Friday.

Members of the Salvation Army have been here in Norway, soliciting aid for the Chelsea fire sufferers.

The chimney swifts were out in force, Friday. They are always attracted to the chimney in the Opera House.

Jennie Russell of North Lovell remembered the ADVERTISER office with a bouquet of the largest and most beautiful Mayflowers of the season.

Irving Frost has gone to Poland Springs to do stone work this summer. This is Mr. Frost's fourth summer that he has worked on the Poland Spring house property.

The foremen and employees at the B. F. Spinney & Co's. shoe shop presented Charles Bradley, who finishes work there this month, with a gold watch as a token of their esteem.

Hubert Bishop of Island Pond, Vt., treated the ADVERTISER office to genuine Vermont maple sugar. Hubert worked at the office the past winter and knew we had a sweet tooth.

The household goods of the late Carrie M. Fiske were sold at public auction at Concert hall, Friday afternoon, George A. Cole, auctioneer. There were some 50 or 75 people who attended.

A. H. Wallace has been making a very pretty hooked rug that he has just finished. It has unusually bright and natural looking autumnal leaves on a black ground. Mr. Wallace makes these rugs in his spare time and would be glad to do this kind of work for people.

Friday, Hiram Clark found in a mud puddle on Paris street a strange looking bird. He took it and put it in a cage and consulted with the Norway entomologists to find out what it was. It was a Holboells grebe, usually found in the middle states and of very rare occurrence in the east. It is now in the collection of George R. Howe.

The Newport News says that H. Price Webber and his excellent company produced "The Gold King" at the opera house there to a large and delighted audience. Among a half column of praise it says:—

"Mr. Webber stands alone in his profession in one particular, and that is he needs no outside advertising for his company on bill boards as the simple announcement of his dates in the towns and cities he annually visits is enough to assure a liberal patronage. Mr. Webber is best liked where he is best known, and his friends and admirers are legion. He is always willing to help any public or private society in their efforts for the good and welfare of the public."

To all this Norway can heartily say, amen.

Will Build New Schoolhouse.

Town Voted for New School Building but Against the Proposed Town Building at Special Meeting.

Some four or five hundred citizens assembled at the adjourned town meeting which was held at the Norway Opera House, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This meeting was called to act upon the following five articles as per vote at the annual town meeting March 2:

Art. 17. To see if the town will vote to erect a building for town purposes to accommodate the overflow from schools, also rooms for an armory, assessors' office, public library and hall to be used for a drill hall, gymnasium for the school, town meetings and other town purposes.

Art. 18. To see what sum of money the town will vote to raise for the purchase of a suitable lot and the erection of said building.

Art. 26. To see if the town will vote to purchase a lot and build a new schoolhouse.

Art. 27. To see what sum of money the town will raise to secure a school lot and build a schoolhouse.

Art. 28. To see what persons the town will select as a purchasing and building committee.

The moderator, Hon. A. S. Kimball, called the meeting to order and proceeded at once to take up the business.

At the regular meeting under article 17 it was voted that the moderator, A. S. Kimball, appoint a committee to look into the matter and report at the adjourned meeting. The men appointed were D. S. Sanborn, J. L. Partridge, Capt. J. W. Nash, William F. Jones, esq., and H. M. Jackson. The report of this committee was read by Moderator Kimball.

The committee had examined three lots, the Stephen Cummings lot which could be purchased for $800, the Merriam lot, corner Main and Pleasant streets, $4000 and the Elm house lot, $5500. They also offered the plans and drawings of the proposed building which were drawn by Miller and Mayo of Lewiston. These plans were on exhibition. They were for a building 60x100 feet of which the estimated cost would be $14,470. These figures included building, foundation, buying furnishing and everything.

Charles E. Holt made the motion to pass over the article and the motion was seconded.

Capt. J. W. Nash took the floor and explained how he considered the town could in the long run be benefitted by erecting this building and gave figures to show his statements. He also answered objections which he had heard against the plan.

Capt. Nash also stated that it was just ten years ago that Co. D assembled in the hall before leaving for duty. Some didn't come back. Co. D has a good record, stands second to none in New England and there is hardly a team in the United States that can trim them. He also read the report of the adjutant general in which it was stated that the present quarters were inadequate.

H. B. Foster asked some questions and gave some figures which as he saw them would not under the new plan bring about the benefit to the town as claimed by Capt. Nash. The vote was taken and it was strongly in favor of passing over the article.

The articles regarding the schoolhouse were then taken up and on a motion of H. L. Horne it was voted to instruct the selectmen and treasurer to procure $1800 at such time and on such terms as they considered best to procure a lot and build a schoolhouse.

The matter of a purchasing and building committee was on motion of H. B. Foster left with the selectmen.

Base Ball.

N. H. S. 9; B. H. S. 3.

The game at the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon between Norway High school and Bridgton High school was very interesting. Norway won by a score of 9 to 3.

Both teams played a good game but the Norway boys got the best of them in the last part of the game. Umpires Rich and Libby did good work and used one side as fair as another.

The Norway girls turned out in large numbers and showed their interest by their loyal cheering. The score:

Poverty Ball.

The poverty ball given by the Veranda club at the Norway Opera House, Friday evening, was attended by about 60 couples who participated in the dancing and by about 100 people in the gallery who did the looking on.

The dance orders were in keeping with the poverty idea, printed on rough wrapping paper and the spelling was antique. The names of the dances and the aids were given in a unique way. J. P. Cullinan, boss; helps: Alton Curtis, litening xpress; Herbert Bradbury, keen kutter; Knox Bickford, watchful senior; Wm. C. Cole, grand marshall. Mr. Curtis and Mr. Cole were not present and their places were taken by W. W. Sheen and Everett Record. Mr. and Mrs. Cullinan lead the grand march followed by the aids and their ladies. There were 58 couples on the march. No one was dressed in a poverty costume.

The music for the order of seventeen dances was furnished by Stearns' orchestra.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

Elijah Kellogg, Preacher and Poet.

BY CHARLES W. STEVENS.

I once asked an eloquent colored preacher in Southern Pines, N. C., if he objected to tell me why he preferred to deliver his sermon extemporaneously.

"Suttenly not, sir, suttenly not. It's just like this, sir. If I writes dem down I has to stick to my tex, but if I doesn't I kin branch out, branch out, see?"

Yes, I saw, and the colored clergyman's reason was a good one, better perhaps than I can give for my somewhat desultory sketches.

And now before introducing the subject of my sketch I am going to say a few words about our much maligned New England springs. I am writing this on the twenty-fifth day of March in the year of our Lord, 1908, and in the sixth year of the reign of Theodore 1st. Yesterday, at four o'clock p. m., the mercury in the thermometer outside my window registered 52 degrees. This morning, at seven o'clock it was 17 degrees, a fall of 35 degrees.

Now follows an extract from my before mentioned fishing chum, Mr. Charles M. Blake of Boston, written from Pinehurst, N. C., and received yesterday: "We have just passed through five very hot days, 80 to 85 degrees all the time. I thought "damn" often and wished I was home. Today we have rain and mercury at 45 degrees, just as much of a northeaster as we have in Boston, and we were glad to embrace the steam heater once more." Well, here we have in the change five degrees to our credit anyway, and that is enough to dispel the notion that we have the most changing climate in our "boundless domains."

"Devil's Elijah" was the soubriquet given to Mr. Kellogg during his attendance at Gorham Academy, where I followed him as a student some 15 years later. He certainly could not have been a vicious devil. No such a charming character and career as his manhood developed would have shown the "horns and hoofs" of a medieval Prince of darkness or a somewhat more modern Mephistophiles. That he was foremost in the pranks of academic and collegiate students was undoubtedly the source of his nickname, there could not have been another.

And here I make my second digression in order to introduce another clergyman noted for his eccentricity in the the pulpit and upon secular occasions. The Rev. Caleb Bradley, who, at the time of my two years at Gorham in the middle forties, was settled, if I rightly remember, in the neighboring town of Scarboro. He frequently occupied our pulpit and we young fellows were always in attendance when he preached and on the alert for something not quite conventional to fall from his lips.

He one Sunday commenced his prayer as follows: "Oh, Lord God, thou art like the squirrel in the wall, thou can see us but we can't see thee." Another time: "We are assembled this morning in the Lord's house;" and then opening his eyes and surveying the dreary interior of the old edifice with its two huge stoves perched high upon either end of the singers' gallery, and which had fought their way to their lofty stations against the anathemas of earlier church members, he continued, "or perhaps I should say, the Lord's barn."

Addressing us once in the seminary hall as to our future careers he said: "And now perhaps some one of you may make a Washington, or perhaps a Jefferson or an Adams, and the Lord knows most any of you can make a Polk."

Mr. Kellogg was born in Harpswell, Me., where after preparing for the ministry he was settled as pastor of the Congregational church. He was below the average stature, ungainly in the pulpit and careless in his dress. He usually read his sermons from manuscript and made but few gestures. What then were the charms he possessed to draw such large and cultivated audiences as he did when preaching in Bath, Portland and other communities than his own? I am not sure which I should place first, his great, big, warm heart, his winning manner or the poetical nature of his sermons, for that he was a poet though I never knew that he ever wrote a poem in his life so far as versification is to be considered.

Elijah Kellogg will be remembered in New England, at least, long after her merchant princes are forgotten. "Spartacus" and Hannibal at the Altar" have for the last sixty years been declaimed by nearly every graduate of a high school or academy, and they will continue to be, in the writer's judgment, when other more widely noted men are forgotten.

I first heard Mr. Kellogg preach in Portland where I was born and resided till 1852 when I removed to Boston. Some six years later Mr. Kellogg was urged to go to that city and become pastor of the Seaman's chapel, or I should say a Seaman's for there were two. One under Unitarian government at the North End where Father Taylor preached, and the other at the foot of Summer street near where the South Station now stands, under Congregational or Orthodox support.

Father Taylor was a quaint preacher and was well fitted, as was Mr. Kellogg, for his work. He was much more boisterous in his delivery than the subject of our sketch, and appealed in a different manner to his seafaring audiences.

Judge Russell, at one time Collector of Customs of the Port of Boston, married one of Father Taylor's daughters. The Judge was somewhat a "man of the world" fond of a good time but not overdoing it. Someone asked the father-in-law one day if he thought his son-in-law was a saint. "No," was the reply, "I don't think the Judge is a saint, but he certainly is a very sweet sinner."

Born and reared upon our rugged coast Mr. Kellogg loved the sea and the sailormen, "they that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in the great waters." To his poetic eye every Isle in Casco Bay was a sparkling jewel in old Ocean's crown. The gentle murmur of the wavelets as they kissed the shore seemed the touch of fairy fingers upon an Æolian.

What wonder then when the call came to him to go forth and preach to those wanderers of the sea he cheerfully left his country home for a city life though the meager salary which he received was scarcely half that he might have had in a more ostentatious pulpit. But like many another literary genius Mr. Kellogg was as a child so far as dollars and cents were concerned, and though unlike the Prophet, whose name he bore, he was never fed by ravens, there were times in the days when my friendship and association with him were very near when were it not for anonymous contributions from a small circle of his admirers, he would have been in somewhat straightened circumstances. And well did those intimates know that these gifts were more than half spent for the relief of the poor of his parish or a reckless sailor thrown upon the street by a landlord shark.

I made the acquaintance of Mr. Kellogg shortly after his going to Boston and we became very intimate, spending many evenings with him at his modest lodgings in the "Seaman's Mansion." Here he would tell me many anecdotes of his early life and I can almost feel his presence now as sitting upon the arm of the chair I occupied he would put his arm over my shoulder and revel in the past. "And now Charlie," he would say as the time to leave came, "Let us kneel down and say a prayer." A stoney hearted man would he have been who could resist such a lovely nature and a tear would often fall from my eye as he would kiss my cheek and bid me a cheerful "Good night." I was at that time a Unitarian by profession but he never alluded to the difference of our creeds in our serious conversations.

In his preaching to his somewhat "under world" congregation, classics were ignored and one could never guess that here was the man of all men, who wrote "Sparticus to the Gladiators."

"A love of nature makes the whole world kin," and it was of the field and the flowers, the brooks and the sea and above all for the care of our Heavenly Father for these, His children, that he raised his melodious voice and pointed the way to a happy home hereafter.

He was very fond of boys and never happier than when he had two or three about him. I said to him one day, "Why don't you write some boy's books?"

"I think I could," he said and others encouraged him to do so. The result is well known, he gave up preaching for a time and that delightful series of stories, "The Elm Island tales," and many others flowed from his prolific pen, gladdening the hearts of many a New England boy as they do to this day.

Some twenty years since, I should say, he returned to his early home and resumed preaching in the old meeting-house occasionally, as in the earlier days exchanging with other ministers and speaking often for every good work.

A few years since, I cannot give the exact date, his stewardship ended, and full of honors and years he was gathered to his fathers. A modest monument erected to his memory by friends and admirers points out his last resting place in the graveyard of the old town he loved so well.

The last time I had the pleasure of meeting my old and honored friend was at the Centennial celebration of the city of Portland in 1886 when I had the honor of speaking upon the same platform with him. He was then the same charming personality with the abundant flow of wit and humor of the earlier days that had won for him from all classes of his listeners both love and esteem.

I cannot better close this sketch of one I loved than in quoting as a reflex of his character and life his own words from a sermon upon St. John the Baptist, "He was in outward form like unto many of the ancient seers living among the humbler classes of men. The sun had kissed them but it was lovingly, the moon had smitten them but it was with poetry and not with madness."

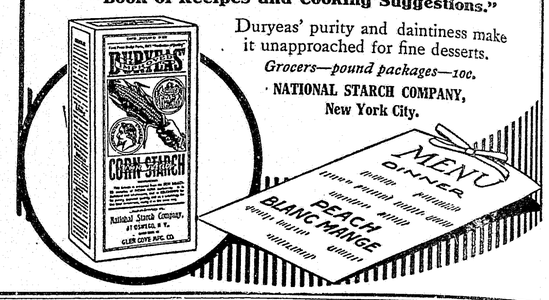

Governor Cobb has proclaimed Friday, May 15, Arbor day. Let every man, woman and child who can find a bit of land to plant it on plant one tree or one shrub. Or if they cannot do that destroy an injurious moth, caterpillar or insect. If they cannot do these things just look at some tree or shrub and study it for fifteen minutes, learn something about it and learn to love the trees by getting acquainted with them.

Tells Our Readers How to Mix Best Rheumatism Cure.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers, if asked to.

Representative of W. C. T. U. in Japan.

Flora E. Strout, who was born in Mechanic Falls and lived there quite a number of years, now of Baltimore, has been appointed representative of the W. C. T. U. to Japan.

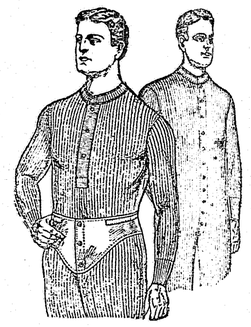

Miss Strout is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Strout, was educated in the public schools of Mechanic Falls and Auburn, also graduated at Farmington Normal school in 1887. Later she specialized in English through an extension course at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, and two summer courses at Harvard University. She is principal of the college preparatory and normal departments of Morgan college, Baltimore.

While attending to these duties in Baltimore she became interested in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and has been president of a young woman's union in that city, and now determines to give her whole time to the work.

Her work in Japan will be largely pioneer work, there having been but one representative there before her.

I was interested in an article in a recent date of the ADVERTISER of a cure by a prayer of the Rev. C. A. Brooks. It brought to my mind a cure wrought by prayer 26 years ago, at Old Orchard Beach, by Dr. Culis. It was a friend and relative of mine from this town, Sumner. There are two brothers and a sister living in town now.

MOVING SALE

At the earnest soliciation of Angelo Cavalieri, seconded by the wishes of the committee who want the place now occupied as a Fruit Store for quarters for the Paris Trust Co., we have decided to give up our store next to the Post Office to Mr. Cavalieri. We make this move only after careful consideration. We do not see how this change will inconvenience any. On the other hand we think it will make it more convenient for many of our customers, as it quite frequently happens that people come to the lower store for things not carried there and then have to go to the upper store for them. The consolidation will save this extra trouble on your part, as everything we carry will then be found at one place. It will also give us more help at our old store, therebyenabling us to give closer attention to our several departments. By so doing and devoting our entire energy to one store, we hope to serve our customers even better than in the past.

We Must Vacate Our Store on or before JUNE 1st.

Begining THURSDAY MAY 7th we shall sell out our stock at REDUCED PRICES. In this sale you will find Purfumes, Purses, Wallets and other Leather Goods, Hair and Tooth Brushes, Combs, Toilet Articles, Soaps, Box Stationery, Tablets, Memorandum Books, Confectionery in Fancy Boxes and Bulk, Fountain Pens, Tobacco, etc., at a discount of 20 to 50 per cent. from regular prices.

Many medicines and staple articles that we have to buy from week to week, we do not feel like offering at such discounts, but, rather than move them, will sell these at a discount of 10 per cent. from regular prices.

Remember this Sale begins THURSDAY, MAY 7th

Thanking our many friends and customers for past favors and trusting that this consolidation of business will be approved by you, we shall in the future, as we have tried to do in the past, endeavor to so serve you that it shall be for your interest to continue to favor us with your patronage.

Yours respectfully,

But Besides Catarrh, Hyomei Cures Grip, Coughs and Colds, Croup and Asthma.

Read: If You Are a Sufferer from Catarrh, Reason and Reflect.

"My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night, and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm, and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured solely through the use of Hyomei."

Dr. Philip Z. Hart, Laconia, N. H.

Reader, this is one of thousands of testimonials praising the marvelous curative power of Hyomei. If you are a sufferer, why not try it? The Noyes Drug Store guarantees it, and will refund your money if it fails to cure. Hyomei is not a stomach nostrum; it is dry antiseptic and medicated air, and all you have to do to cure any disease of the nose, throat or lungs, is to breathe it in through the Hyomei inhaler. A Hyomei outfit, including a scientific inhaler, only costs $1.00. Get one to-day. Subsequent treatment is only 50 cents a bottle. Get one now. The Noyes Drug Store takes all the risk. They guarantee it. 19

IT'S BAD WEATHER FOR BAD PAINT

There are paints so bad as $1.00 a gallon. We haven't any so bad as that; there is no good reason for making any so bad as that; there is no good reason for making bad paint at all.

Devoe costs less than those paints; it is strange indeed that anyone sells those paints; it is stranger yet that anyone buys them.

They take more gallons—cost more money—and don't wear as long.

Pressing the Limit.

We have heard of a great many people making a strong effort, sometimes with more or less success, to wear a number seven shoe on a number eight foot but when a person attempts to fit a number four lady's boot on a number eight gentleman's foot it seems like pressing the limit. Yet this must have been the intention of Leforest Emery or some mistake occurred between the purchase of the shoes and the getting them home. Mr. Emery bought a pair of shoes at West Paris but upon opening the box at Willis' camp found them as above described. Needless to say he wore his old shoes for several days and was the target for a little fun from the rest of the crew.
